Yep, we're growing up and have gone and got ourselves a sister company, Open Eye Solutions.

This means that through our partner agency we can offer website design, bespoke web design, business website development and seo services.

The rebranding of E-Unique to Open Eye Solutions has been on the cards for a while. Lee Smith of E-Unique, now Open Eye Solutions has been our preferred website design and seo man for a long time because like us E-Unique are about creating business results via the web not touchy feely soft benefits.

The Open Eye Solutions portfolio is impressive and all business website development is at extremely competiitive prices. The SEO Services department is wildly effective at producing organic positioning which has supplemented many of our clients pay per click campaigns and long term organic positioning objectives. In actual fact it is these guys that are responsible for the design of this website and our high website ranking in the organic results e.g. 1st on Google.

Making clients money directly from their websites is a particular speciality via UK ecommerce website design.
